

Angthong National Marine Park by Tour Boat + Lunch + Transfer - (No Kayaking)

#TOUR-175 · TOUR · Angthong National Marine Park · Samui Island

Overview

Angthong National Marine Park is one of Thailand's most protected and visually striking seascapes — an archipelago of 42 limestone islands rising from the Gulf of Thailand, with emerald lagoons, sheer cliffs, and near-untouched beaches that no resort development will ever touch. This full-day tour gets you there by dedicated tour boat from Samui, with a freshly prepared onboard lunch included and round-trip transfers handling the logistics from your hotel door. No kayaking means a more relaxed pace — ideal for families with young children, older travellers, or anyone who simply wants to explore the islands, swim, snorkel, and take in the scenery without a packed activity schedule.
